GREAT RECORD FOR CITY MANAGEMENT IN DUBUQUE, IOWA

BANKRUPT CITY BROUGHT BACK TO LIFE AND PROSPERITY.

BUDGETS ARE CUT

More Work Done but Taxes Lowered—Two Years Convinces City.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE)

Dubuque, Ia.—Vastly improved conditions in municipal affairs in Dubuque, becoming more and more pronounced during the past two years, are directly traceable to the adoption by the voters of the city, of the city manager form of government.

From January, 1920, when the city found its treasury void of cash, with road funds and fire funds exhausted the preceding fall, and unpaid bills everywhere, and no resources with which to face the final three months of the fiscal year, to the present time when at the close of the fiscal year, under the manager form of government, the city finds that it has in excess of $40,000 over and above the amount anticipated in the 1921 municipal revenues. This has been the change brought about in two years under City Manager form of government, according to records on file in the city.

Many Changes for Better

Along with this change in financial affairs of the city, are many other features which figure in considering the standing of the city's affairs. All departments of the city government have evidenced the effect of the revision during the past two years. Improved conditions in the police department recently won recognition from the national board of fire underwriters, and the state insurance bureau at Des Moines, in the form of reduced insurance rating.

The cost of maintaining the fire and police departments during the past two years has shown little if any increase over previous years.

U. S. BUREAU GETS GENERAL CLEANUP

Wholesale Dismissals Put Administration Into New Hands.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS)

Washington.—The bureau of engraving and printing was operating Saturday under practically a complete new executive personnel, from the director down, and including every division of the bureau.

The sweeping change in the bureau's administration was effected by President Harding through an executive order Friday night, removing James L. Wilmett, director, and a number of divisions chiefs and other officials. "For the good of the service," Louis A. Hill, assistant chief of the division of engraving, was named as the new director of the bureau and assumed charge immediately on promulgation of the order.

The dismissals, which came as a complete surprise to those affected, were ordered, it was explained, as the result of an extended investigation and in connection with a complete reorganization of the bureau and treasury department, however, failed to throw any light on the dismissal order, saying the action and the brief announcement of his promulgation at the White House would have to speak for themselves.

Probe Fails to Verify Charges by Gov. Russell

Jackson, Miss.—The special committee of the Mississippi house, named to investigate charges of "pernicious" lobbying by certain fire insurance agents, and other allegations made by Governor Russell in a special message, reported Saturday its investigation had failed to substantiate the charges.

Passenger Train Jumps Rails; No One Is Injured

Milwaukee road passenger train 137, Chicago to Madison, jumped the track at 6:45 p. m. Friday near the Janesville roundhouse at Five Points, the engine, tender and express car got into the ditch and turning partly over. Nobody was injured.

The wheels dug up the track for three, half lengths and the tracks on the mall car were broken. Engineer McCann clung to his seat and resolutely shaking up. Fireman Robbins jumped to safety.

Traffic was blocked on the line up to 8 a. m. Saturday. A train was made up here and Madison passengers transferred.

Track foreman John Murphy said Saturday that a worn nut apparently had worked loose on the "weye" switch, causing the derailment.

Russians Take Foreigners as Safe Hostages

London.—A Central News dispatch from Riga Saturday quoted the Russian newspaper Rul as saying that the Petrograd police have arrested a number of foreigners to be held as hostages in order to insure the safety of the Russian soviet delegates to the Genoa conference.

George Ward Captures Bird-House Sweepstakes

With a large green martin house, finished in detail, made practically and so that birds will use it, and a handsome affair, George Ward of the local high school won first prize of $10 in the Galette Bird House contest Saturday. His house, together with all the other prize winners and others, is on exhibition at the Sheldon Hardware store.

There were 18 prizes in all awarded, totaling almost $50.

Frank Merrett, 612 Cherry street, won first prize of $5 for the "city" house. His house was a small, simple affair, well finished and made of the Rock county farm, and won the second prize of $3. Third prize was won by Everett J. Mondows, whose entry was an oblong, one compartment house. It was finished in brown and green, and won its award by its plainness and solid appearance.

Many exhibits were sent from Butts Corners, near Evansville. They were nearly all made of bark, and twigs. Glen Mans of the Butts Corners school, won first prize for a small, simple house, and won the second prize of $2.50. Third prize was won by Robert Templeton and Ralph Mans won second and third respectively.

Gifts Take Prizes

One of the best houses exhibited was made by a girl—Bertha Kane—and she won a special $2.50 prize. It was small, but well-made and finished with varnish. Margie Kuehn, the only other girl entered, won the second prize of $1.50.

FORMER EMPEROR KARL OF AUSTRIA DIES AT FUNCHAL

PNEUMONIA FATAL TO EX-MONARCH ON ISLAND.

EXILE IS EASY

Last Days Spent Amid Pleasant Surroundings After Monarchy Falls.

Funchal, Madeira.—Former Emperor Charles of Austria-Hungary died here Saturday.

Former Emperor Charles was taken ill at his home in exile on the island of Madeira, slightly more than a week ago. He was first said to be suffering from fever, but direct advices from Funchal March 28 announced that his malady was bronchitis, pneumonia, and later it was stated he was suffering from pneumonia with cerebral complications. His condition became so serious Wednesday that extreme urgency was administered.

There was some improvement in the former ruler's condition Wednesday night, but he failed to maintain this gain, and Friday's advices were that he was growing rapidly worse.

The illness of the ex-ruler created widespread sympathy among the monarchists in both Vienna and Budapest. One of the former court physicians stated from Vienna in the hope of reaching Funchal and attending the ex-monarch, "a subscription of several million crowns has been raised to defray the expenses while in Madeira." It was reported Count Julius Andrássy had sold a famous Rembrandt for 500,000 francs to assist the exile.

Former Emperor Charles of Austria Hungary and his wife Zita were sent into exile by the entente allies after he had made two spectacular attempts to regain the throne either in Austria or Hungary. Thereafter, he was kept a political prisoner on the Portuguese island of Madeira, 400 miles off the African coast.

Charles and Zita were sent to Madeira in a small boat, and the city of Funchal, whose residents treated them with friendly consideration.

Ex-Empress Zita had left her children in Switzerland, and when one of them was taken ill the allied government.

French Reply, They Agree U.S. Should Be Paid

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS)

Washington.—The French government "never had any intention of contesting the right of the United States to be as completely reimbursed for their army costs as the United States," says the reply of the French government to the American note in relation to army costs, made public Saturday at the state department.

The note, given out in the form of a cable from Ambassador Herrick at Paris, setting forth the reply of the French government, was the first since the resolution of the League of Nations to identify notes addressed by him last week to the governments of Great Britain, France, Italy, Belgium and Japan, setting forth the rights of the United States to be reimbursed for the cost of the American army of occupation in Germany. These notes stated that under the terms of the armistice with Germany, the United States was to be reimbursed for the cost of the American army of occupation in Germany, and that the United States could not consent to distribution of the German reparations among the allied governments to an extent which would postpone payments for costs of the American troops.

BONUS FOR VISIT OF STORK OFFERED BY FLAT BUILDER

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS)

Chicago.—Architect Harry I. Dalsey, who is building a flat building with a perambulator stall with lock and key for each tenant, has announced that each tenant who receives a call from Dr. Stork will receive a cash present of $25.

Should twins be left, he'll make it $50. He makes no promise to triplets. This is Mr. Dalsey's theory: "I want to see lots of children around my building for they make happy homes and that means better and more contented tenants."

MARCH DEATH LIST IN BELFAST FROM RIOTS REACHES 64

BLACKEST MONTH IN HISTORY OF ULSTER CAPITAL

MORE BOMBINGS

Police and Republican Army Soldiers in Fight; Mails Are Robbed.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS)

Belfast.—The roll of fatalities from the factional disorders in Belfast reached 64 for March—the blackest month in Belfast's history. The last victim was Francis Flynn who died from the effects of injuries received in a recent no-holds-barred fight.

An unsuccessful attempt was made Friday night to set fire to a large engineering establishment on the east side. Two unexploded bombs were found.

A fierce fight between police and members of the Irish republican army took place near the eastern border of Tyrone county, Ulster, at midnight. The police were patrolling the district which is mountainous, when they came on a large body of soldiers drilling. The police, commander, A. C. Land, was wounded and the soldiers lost one killed and several wounded.

Bomb Kills Child

A laborer named Donnelly was seated at the front of a Friday night, reading the terms of the London peace pact to his wife from a newspaper, when a bomb was thrown, killing his three-year-old son, and wounding two other children and Donnelly himself. Four shots were fired, without effect, at Mrs. Donnelly.

A train from Belfast to Dublin was held up at the Dunlough county, Saturday, by 40 armed men who entered the mail coach and removed all letters and parcels from Belfast.

WASHINGTON SEES FINISH FIGHT AS BIG STRIKE OPENS

GOVERNMENT IN NO MOOD TO INTERFERE IN WALK-OUT.

BOTH SIDES FIRM

Will Not Listen to Reason for Weeks, Belief; Shortage to Bring Crisis.

By DAVID LAWRENCE.

Washington.—The coal strike is to be a fight, the wisest Government officials feel they are powerless to do anything effective at this time and believe it will be a month or two before either side will be willing to listen to reason.

Both President Harding and Secretary Davis have been trying for some time to get both sides together but when each is convinced it has something to gain by a strike, the efforts of a mediator are bound to be futile.

Secretary of Labor Davis pointed out that 22 weeks elapsed in 1902 before President Roosevelt was able to bring the last big coal strike to a close. The strike in 1910 was of six weeks duration and was really terminated by the application of injunctions. The government is in no mood to resort to such a process now.

Exhaustion Only Answer

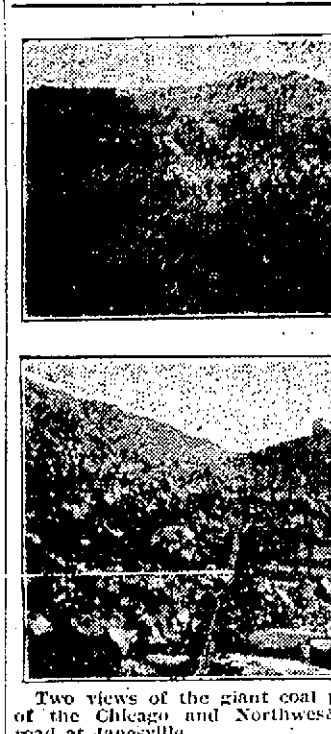

Exhaustion by one side or the other is inevitable in the opinion of Government officials. There's a surplus of 60,000 tons of bituminous and 10,000,000 tons of anthracite coal just now. When that is used up by the consumer the crisis in the strike will be reached.

No issues involved in the present strike situation are fundamental. They are typical of other labor troubles of the after-the-war period, perhaps more closely analogous to the situation on the railroads than anything else.

To the layman who doesn't follow the inside controversies of the coal miners, except when an acute situation presents itself, certain facts are

NORTHWESTERN COAL PILE READY FOR THE BIG COAL STRIKE

Two views of the giant coal pile of the Chicago and Northwestern road at Janesville.

Huge piles of coal stored at the South Janesville yards of the Chicago & Northwestern railway. There are three stacks illustrated in the pictures. The total is 52,000 tons to be used for locomotives of the radiating out of this city, to overcome shortage due to closing mines during the coal strike.

Placed end to end these piles would extend over three-quarters of a mile. They are 20 feet high at the peak and 20 feet wide at the base.

Using 360 tons a day and filling the tenders of 45 engines, this great coal storage should last the railway about 144 days.

Janesville homes and factories use approximately 110,000 tons of coal annually. The C. & N. W. piles would thus keep fires burning here for a half a year.

Country's Mines Idle as 600,000 Miners Walk Out

BULLETIN

Benton, Ill.—Spasmodic shooting occurred in various sections of Southern Illinois Saturday, where the miners' strike was reported as 100 per cent complete. Jesse Henson, night police chief at Duquoin, was wounded seriously and Policeman Walter Sconce was wounded by Harry Reid, a miner.

The shooting occurred in a cave and resulted from an argument. Reid, who escaped, shot Henson in the chin and right shoulder and Sconce in the right hand.

With more than 50,000 miners idle in Southern Illinois, much shooting was reported.

(By Associated Press)

Mining of coal in the United States Saturday was almost completely suspended, the nation's greatest coal strike having gone into effect last midnight. At least 600,000 men, 100,000 of them non-union miners, were said by union leaders to be affected by the walk-out, which is planned to be continued indefinitely in an effort to force operators to accept the miners' terms for new wage contracts. Preliminary reports were said to indicate few operators who conduct their mines on the "closed shop" basis planned to attempt continued production with non-union men.

Twenty states were affected by the suspension and practically the only coal mining districts to operate are in Alabama, where the miners chose to remain at work, and in Kentucky, where a combi contract have a year to run. For the first time in history, union officials said, both bituminous and anthracite fields were closed simultaneously, and the union share was that 6,000 of the 7,500 mines in the country were closed.

In the anthracite fields of Pennsylvania reports indicated that the 33 companies, operating 250 collieries and employing about 135,000 men, were idle. For the anthracite field, it was the first general suspension since 1912.

Real Test Monday

Officials of both sides to the controversy admit a real test of the walkout in the bituminous field cannot be had before Monday, inasmuch as Saturday is an annual holiday in the mining camps in celebration of the eight-hour day.

What an outcome can be expected at union headquarters at Indianapolis and officials there declared their future program would be determined later.

INTEREST HIGH AS ELECTION NEARS

City Manager Referendum, Treasurer Contest to Draw Big Vote.

With one of the most important elections in the history of Janesville less than 72 hours distant, interest in the outcome of the referendum on the city manager plan is growing hourly, indicating a poll of between 5,000 and 7,000 votes, Tuesday. It will be the second time for women to vote in a city election in this city. The referendum is one of the most important of the year and from all appearances they are going to turn out in large numbers. At the 1921 city election, a warm one, 6,868 votes were cast.

What are the women going to do? That is the question the various candidates are wondering about but they will have to wait until Tuesday night for their answer. Women have taken no part in the election of city manager form of government and they will spare no effort to get every voter to the polls.

Leonard Edwards Race

While contests other than the referendum are few, they are attracting considerable interest and indications point to unusually heavy votes in the First, Second and Fourth wards where aldermanic fights are being staged. In the only city-wide race aside from the referendum is that between William J. Leonard, present incumbent, and Miss M. Franc Edwards, for city treasurer. This fight is attracting more attention because it is the first time in the city's history that a woman has run against a man for any office except school commissioner and supervisor.

In the balance of the city-at-large division, there are no contests. City Attorney Roger G. Cunningham and Mrs. Helen M. Sutherland, school commissioner-at-large, are running as a combined ticket. Neither is a candidate for justice of the peace.

Great Fight in Fourth

With four candidates in the field, the aldermanic battle in the Fourth ward is being watched with interest and keenly in that in the management referendum and the treasurer contest. Here George L. Traver is seeking re-election opposed by William J. Hill, former alderman, Thomas F. Spohn, and Smith E. Moore. So far attention because it is the first time in the city's history that a woman has run against a man for any office except school commissioner and supervisor.

They are survived by two daughters, Louise, 24 and Ruth, 22. Mr. Denniston, in the real estate business, had lived at Daytona Beach for three years having moved there from South Dakota. His brother, Charles, also lives there.

They were married in Janesville 30 years ago and moved away shortly afterward, going to Chicago. Each has many supporters in the First and are willing to make a prediction as to the outcome of the race.

The fifth and last contest in the Second ward is between Louis Kerstel and Alva Hermanns for the one-year term as alderman. This too, promises to be a close election.

MAYOR'S OFFICE ENTERED BY 'YEGGS'

Would-Be Safe Crackers April Fool Themselves—Nothing Is Taken.

Youtiful yeggmen were victims of their own "April fool" joke when they attempted to force open the small safe, alias Jimmy Val, alias Thomas E. Welch at 1002 Wall street early Saturday morning.

In the first place, it would have done the novices no good had they succeeded in getting the safe. There were no valuables in the strong box, only records and books.

In the second place the safe combination was not locked only the record book being turned. All the yeggs would have had to do was turn the lock a few inches to the right and the safe would have opened. However, they insisted on struggling a dime novel, alias Jimmy Val, alias Thomas E. Welch, and battered with the locks and before they got through the safe was more than locked—it was sealed tight. It will now take an expert or operator of some sort to open it.

Entrance to the warehouse was gained through a rear window, which was not bolted. The blinds in the office were closed. The sturdy yeggs had a little experience but no valuables. There was a ten cent screw driver, a small mechanical hammer, a steel rod and a small jack-knife in the desk. With implements they finally gave up and pounded the door more than the lock for they were not even accurate with the hammer in hitting the lock handle. They broke the blade of the jack-knife and finally gave up in despair when the lock was broken off.

Until recently the mayor kept a sign on the safe door stating that it was an "April fool" robbery. The sign was not locked and there were no valuables in the safe. The erstwhile yeggs even elicited a dollar's worth of stamps in the desk.

It was an "April fool" robbery except for Mayor Welch for it will cost more to have the safe opened than the safe was worth.

BULLETINS

Wilkesbarre, Pa.—The suspension in the anthracite fields today, was not 100 per cent effected to work for the protection of property made their way to and from the collieries.

New York.—Congressional action to prohibit over-development of the coal industry was proposed here by Philip Murray, vice president of the United Mine Workers of America, as "a cure for the great evil which has America in the grip of a nation-wide strike Saturday."

Cleveland.—Neither of the three railroads, which have closed their operations, will be in Chicago Saturday for the meetings of the 16 railroad brotherhoods. Warren S. Stone, president of the engineers, W. G. Lee, president of the trainmen, and W. S. Carter, president of the firemen, all said they knew nothing of such a meeting and would NOT be in Chicago Sunday.

Chicago.—Persons in close touch with railroad labor unions today declared that any action in connection with the coal miners' strike is contemplated at the conference of leaders of 15 railway unions here Sunday.

Janesville Couple Die in Atlantic

Mr. and Mrs. George Elliott Denniston, formerly of Janesville, were drowned in the Atlantic ocean Friday night off the coast of Daytona Beach, Florida, according to a telegram received Saturday by Mrs. J. A. Denniston, 323 Madison street, his stepmother. Both were well known here.

Mrs. Denniston is a sister of Miss Laible Foster, and John Foster, 612 Center avenue, Janesville.

They are survived by two daughters, Louise, 24 and Ruth, 22. Mr. Denniston, in the real estate business, had lived at Daytona Beach for three years having moved there from South Dakota. His brother, Charles, also lives there.

They were married in Janesville 30 years ago and moved away shortly afterward, going to Chicago. Each has many supporters in the First and are willing to make a prediction as to the outcome of the race.

The fifth and last contest in the Second ward is between Louis Kerstel and Alva Hermanns for the one-year term as alderman. This too, promises to be a close election.

COAL STRIKE SUMMARY

Six hundred thousand bituminous and anthracite coal miners went on strike today.

One hundred thousand non-union miners were included in the walkout.

Union officials estimated 6,000 of the nation's 7,500 mines were shut down.

The daily loss of production in anthracite fields was estimated at 305,000 tons.

The daily loss of wages in anthracite branch is $800,000, affecting 20,000 families.

Bituminous coal stocks approximate 63,000,000 tons, sufficient to last two months or more.

Hundreds Will Hear Rosa at Apollo, Sunday

What the city manager plan of government is, how it operates, what may be expected of it, and why it is opposed, will be outlined at the Apollo theater at a public meeting at 4 p. m. Sunday, by Charles D. Rosa, chairman of the Wisconsin tax commission in Wisconsin, especially in the southern half of Rock county and at one time judge of the Beloit municipal court. The address promises to be of interest especially to the working men and women of Janesville.

A packed house is predicted, not only because of rapidly growing interest in the city manager plan and a general desire to know more about it, but because of Mr. Rosa's prominence in Wisconsin, especially in the southern section. Mr. Rosa was a republican candidate for congress from the First district in 1920 and polled a big vote in Rock county. He was elected to the Wisconsin assembly in 1921 and was re-elected in the 1922 session by C. M. Perry, Oshkosh, and was adopted. Mr. Rosa will tell why the Wisconsin law is even better than that in other states where either have operated under it for many years.

Mr. Rosa will be introduced by Charles D. Swan, machinist at the St. Paul roundhouse here. The meeting is free to the public.

Madison Radio Concert Heard

Thirty-two Janesville people, children and adults, were among the thousands who heard lectures and concerts from Madison by radio Friday night. Members of Miss Della Halgrove's 5A history class, some parents and members of the high school faculty were guests of Stewart Cullen, son of Archie Cullen, superintendent of the Rock county Asylum.

Static interfered somewhat. Only Madison could be heard. A lecture on the Einstein theory of relativity was followed by a program of vocal and instrumental numbers. A photograph attachment was used.

Besides Miss Halgrove and the pupils, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Haumeyer, Mr. Erickson, Mr. Cullen, Mr. and Mrs. George Dechew and Miss Dorothy Schaper and Bredlow attended.

Screen and Stage

A long list of stars—some old favorites, others just springing into prominence, but all well-known and liked—is seen in the moving picture productions which are to play in the city next week at the leading theaters. Heavy, serious parts, and lighter, more frivolous parts by the actors and actresses in the various productions, which are taken together, more serious and with a deeper emotion than the usual run.

Screen stars playing here during the week are Elsie Ferguson, Jack Holt, Mabel Julianne Scott, Claire Adams, Tom Moore, Matt Moore, Harry T. Morey, Kathleen Williams and Tom Mix.

Besides the main feature picture, each theater has comedies, news and travel pictures, and digests of the world's humor, to round out the program. Vaudeville will be seen in the two houses playing it, the latter part of the week, in connection with feature pictures.

AT THE MYERS.
Three pictures are to be seen at the Myers theater next week, instead of two, as usual. All three will interest every type of movie fan. Elsie Ferguson in "Footlights" for Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, a return engagement of "Behold the Man" on Thursday, and Jack Holt in "The Call of the North" to be shown "A Certain Rich Man" is a production quite different from other photoplays but which cannot be described in detail as it is very complicated, dealing with a story throughout the entire picture. But will say this, that this production will please 100%. No particular star is featured in this play but a selected cast made this picture a big success.

In addition to the above a Two-Reel Comedy will give you from one to thirty minute laughs.

AUBURN Beauty-SIX

An X-RAY of Auburn Features

These Auburn features make for exceptional comfort, thoroughgoing dependability, distinctive beauty and remarkable economy. These essentials, combined in the Auburn, set a new standard of value. The Restful riding qualities of the Auburn car are made possible by these superior principles of construction.

1.—Motor—Continental Red Seal Motor—Model 7-R, the finest product of the world's largest exclusive motor manufacturers, with its positive-pressure oiling system and four-bearing crankshaft which eliminates vibration. 55 brakehorsepower at 2600 R. P. M. Power, flexibility, smoothness and economy.

2.—Velvety Spring Action—Auburn springs are unusually long and strong. They're made right and hung right. Front springs are provided with snubbers, adding still greater comfort and protecting springs against breakage.

3.—Torque Arm—A torque arm on the rear axle takes up both the driving and braking reaction. The springs are thus relieved of this extra duty. This results in fullest riding comfort, and longer life for the car.

4.—Seat Comfort—Seat and back cushions are deep and soft. Seat cushions built over double deck springs—the upper decks are very sensitive, while the lower decks come into play only under abnormal weights and road irregularities.

5.—Upholstery—Upholstery is of finest quality hair and felt, covered with genuine semi-bright, long grain, black leather. French-pleated in soft folds.

6.—Oilless Bushings—Oilless bushings are generously used in all inaccessible places. Entire system of brake levers and pedals floats upon 14 of these bushings. This construction avoids chassis squeaks, rattles and undue wear at these hidden points.

7.—Frame—Frame is of deep section, wide flange, high carbon steel with FIVE cross members of like material. Taper side channels insure perfect alignment of entire chassis, eliminating body squeaks and door rattles.

8.—Clutch—Borg & Beck Clutch 10" single dry plate, disc type, completely enclosed with accessible adjustment. Angular and thrust ball bearings throughout. Easy operating clutch pedal.

9.—Transmission—Transmission in unit with motor, insuring perfect alignment. Gears are of forged nickel steel, case hardened. The teeth in Auburn Transmission gears are not only unusually wide but the face of each tooth is individually ground after hardening, rendering their operation especially quiet. This is a mechanical refinement rarely found even in high priced cars.

10.—Steering Column—Steering column and wheel set at proper angle for maximum comfort to driver. Steering wheel of moulded black rubber composition with polished aluminum spider. Corrugated grip on steering wheel.

11.—Instrument Board—Instrument board and tonneau cabinet finished in genuine walnut. Instruments sunk into board beneath individual glass dials.

12.—Propeller Shaft—Double universal drive shaft with large bearing surfaces which are all hardened and ground steel, the best construction to be had for this service. High carbon steel shaft, exceptionally strong and flexible.

13.—Curtains—Storm-tight curtains open with doors. Chafing and marring of curtains when not in use is eliminated by the container fastened inside of tonneau cabinet door where they are always accessible without disturbing passengers.

14.—Body Moulding—Top edge of body is finished with a smart aluminum moulding along its entire length and around the cowl. This moulding permits an unusually neat and durable body finish.

Send for the new Auburn catalog. The mechanical chart and data it contains will help you make a wise selection of your motor car.

The Auburn is built in six superb body styles—Sedan, Coupe, five-passenger Touring, seven-passenger Touring, Sport Model and Roadster. A car for every need.

Buy your car with Open Eyes

Here are the Auburn facts. Study the chart above. We've laid bare every Auburn feature. See what Auburn offers you. Learn how the Auburn is made Today, more than ever, value counts! Look for it. Before choosing any car—be sure! Buy on facts.

Eighty per cent of your automobile investment is beneath the surface—the unseen units. Know what you are buying. Compare the Auburn features here set forth with what you get in other cars.

But don't stop there. Make your test complete. Come and ride in the Auburn. Test the power and pick-up of Auburn's Continental Red Seal 7-R Motor. Test the comfort and stamina of this Restful riding car.

Velvety Spring Action

Ride as far as you like. Pick the rough roads and worn pavements. Go where the going's hard. Test Auburn's springs. Test its balance. Test its ease of driving. Test its noiseless operation.

Auburn springs are long and strong. The car is wonderfully balanced. Note how it hugs the road. Note the absence of side-sway. Note how smoothly and restfully it rides!

Settle back in the seats. You can in Auburn seats! The sitting position is correct. The backs are high. The cushions are soft. And—there's leg room a-plenty wherever you sit!

Take the wheel. See what restful driving means! The wheel is right in size and position. Brake and clutch pedals respond to slight pressure. Hand levers are long and conveniently placed. Gears shift without effort. And the Auburn turns in short space.

Noiseless Car at Last

All these things you can know for yourself. You can know, too, how quietly the Auburn runs. In mounting the body, no metal touches metal. Instead, a series of cork pads are used. The doors have anti-rattlers. And 14 oilless graphite bushings keep the brake assembly noiseless. You can really ride restfully in this silent, squeakless car!

Beauty! No mistake! You can see it with your own eyes. Dependability. Low upkeep. Long life. Ask any Auburn owner. He'll tell you the facts. He'll give you a new idea of motor car economy!

Built Up to a Standard

Auburn cars have been bettered—not cheapened. Best of all, the Auburn is backed by a company in business to stay—a pioneer—a company that has never been in financial difficulties—a company that is stronger today than ever before in its 22 years!

Remember, it is your money you invest in a car. Play safe. Investigate. Test. Compare. Look over all the cars in this class. Yes, and cars costing much more. We will gladly demonstrate that these statements are facts! Come in; or a phone call will bring the Beauty-Six to your door.

HEALTH TRUCK WILL TOUR ROCK COUNTY

Child Welfare Clinics to Be Held Only in Rural Districts.

No longer are the rural districts devoid of public health work. The first Wisconsin health truck, established by the state board of health, will be sent to Rock county starting April 16, and only rural districts and cities of less than 3,000 population will be visited. In the cities the skilled advice and help by clinics, nurses and health centers are available to a constantly increasing degree. Until the appointment of the energetic county nurse, Anna Luetscher, the country mother was neglected.

Dr. Homer in Charge. Dr. Blanch W. Homer, child welfare specialist, will have charge of the novel automobile truck which will visit Rock county districts from April 17 until May 5. Rock is the first county that the special will tour. Examinations will be given and advice, information and practical aid given. The county nurse is arranging for the meetings, lectures and naming the district chairman.

The service furnished by the health truck in the rural districts is in no sense a medical one. Its mission is educational and helpful. Examinations are limited to school children and the parents will be given a written record of the child's condition, with any recommendations that Dr. Homer may see fit.

Route of the Truck. The route of the child welfare truck in Rock county and the district chairmen that have been named follows:

April 17, 18, 19—Evansville, Mrs. Walter Green, Footville, April 20, 21, Mrs. Harvey, Newark, Woodman hall, April 24, 25—Mrs. Dean Van Camp, Shopshire, April 26—Mrs. J. S. McGowan, Clinton, April 27, 28—Mrs. Frank Rogers, Johnson, April 29, 30—Mrs. George Moore, Lima Center, May 3—Mrs. William Boyd, Milton Junction, May 4, Mrs. W. J. Sowers and in Fulton, May 5.

Arrangements are being completed in the towns and villages of the county where the health truck is to be stationed.

MARKETS

FINANCE

Wall Street Review.

New York, April 1.—Stocks during Saturday's two hours session were governed by the usual week-end sentiment of speculative confidence. After a firm opening, prices reacted on selling of leaders, including Bethlehem Steel, General Electric, and American Express, and prices of the market rallied later on the demand for choice motors, especially Pierce Arrow, common and preferred, the California oils, small order issues, copper and junior issues, and the United States Steel preferred and Western preferred at gains of 1 and 1 1/2 points. The close was strong.

Market conditions were exceedingly narrow at the dull opening of Saturday's market. The stock exchange was depressed by the influence of shares of that description, but probably tended to make traders more cautious. The market was not very active.

Industrial groups moved within fractional limits. General Electric, American Express and Savage Arms were among the few stocks to register gains of one point or more.

DUBUQUE PLEASSED WITH CITY MANAGER

With the exception of small increases in the payrolls. This increase, according to City Manager O. E. Carr, is hardly a comparison to the service rendered. In 1921 the Dubuque city department was considered to be the best and most efficient in the state of Iowa. During the first nine months of the fiscal year alone, the reduction of first losses, amounted to more than the entire amount expended by the city during that period, or more than the city taxes for that time.

Beautifying the City. Along with stimulating the activities of municipal department the city government has devoted much time to the improvement and beautifying of the city. During the last year, sewer construction and street improvement work has been one of the city's main lines of endeavor.

Reducing the Budget. At its final meeting of the fiscal year Friday afternoon, the city budget for the year was adopted by the city council. A reduction from last year's appropriations is apparent in the budget, in spite of the vast amount of work which the city contemplates. While the total of $575,347.70, to be expended from taxes and miscellaneous revenues, during the coming year, the total anticipated expenditures a year ago amounted to $645,958.20.

Dubuque has 31,000 population or nearly twice that of Janesville. By Home Contractors. The city's program of improvement for the present summer includes one of the heaviest bills of street paving which has been taken up by the city at any time. Approximately six miles of city streets are to be paved, at an expense of less than $200,000. All of this work is to be done by Dubuque contractors. In spite of the fact that several outside contractors submitted bids at the time the contracts were let.

The last of the 15 paving contracts were awarded by the city council in session this afternoon, and work will be started immediately, or as soon as the contractors may make arrangements to start.

Effect of City Manager.

The effect of the introduction of the city manager form of government in Dubuque has proved to be more than skin deep. Merchants and business men, almost solidly, have rallied to the support of the administration, while practically every class of citizen is in favor of the form, after it has been given a fair trial. In the recent city election, when a new city council, the old council members, with one exception, sought re-election. The city manager form of government was opposed, although it was thought that an opposition ticket would be placed in the field from certain quarters, no such ticket appeared, and the voters turned out in large numbers to support the city manager form of government. This vote of confidence, as it was called, when it is considered that there was but one act of candidates, was extremely large for a city of this size.

Factions Abolished. Old city political factions have practically vanished in the city. A Dubuque Good Government league has taken its place, guided by many of the city's prominent business and professional men. It was this body that selected the candidates for council. The members of the council, of which there are five, include property owners, bankers, business men and men prominent in labor circles. In summing up the city's financial condition at the present time, the thorough cleaning up which the past 18 months must be considered. During the past fiscal year, the anticipated amount of current tax collections amounted to $574,754. The actual collections amounted to over $577,000. In addition to this over $12,000 in previous years' taxes were collected. While the city's books were, two years ago cluttered with delinquent taxes, through tax sales, this item has been cleared. The actual collections made by the city during the past fiscal year, will when figured up, amount to between $60,000 and $150,000 more than was anticipated in the annual budget appropriations. In addition to this, C. E. Turner, state auditor at work on the bi-annual audit of the city's books, asserted today that the records were clearer and better than they had ever been before.

PERSONALS

Miss Betty Porter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Porter, 446 North Pearl street, is seriously ill with pneumonia.

Mrs. George D. Sweet, Sioux Falls, South Dak., is in the city caring for her daughter Mrs. S. Shawan, Ringer avenue who is ill.

Anton Ostlund, Mineral Point avenue, who has been ill for several days with an attack of grip is able to do out again.

Mrs. Hugh Pogo, Evansville, a former resident, spent Friday in Janesville.

Mrs. Michael McCuskey and granddaughter, Miss Helen Heiser will leave Sunday for Lone Rock to attend the funeral of Mrs. McCuskey's brother-in-law, Edward McCuskey. This is the second death in the same family in two weeks.

John Apple, Evansville, was a business visitor in the city Saturday.

Edgerton

Edgerton—Two auto loads of members of the Methodist Sunday school left for Whitewater Saturday to attend the Standard-Bearers' convention.

The Sunday school classes of the Methodist church held a party in the church parlors Friday night. Supper was served at 6, followed by a short program and games.

Mrs. W. A. Borge was the prize at the bridge party Thursday at the home of Mrs. Alfred Anderson.

Mrs. Oscar Olson won first prize at the meeting of the Supper club Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Dan Bond.

Valdo Ellingson, a student in the university, is home for the week-end.

ICE CUT MEANS $20,000 SAVING Reduction of 25 Cents Per Hundred Is Welcomed Here.

Janesville housewives will have $10,000 more to spend on other things this summer than they did last year because they will save that much on ice according to an estimate of C. Starr Atwood, manager of the City Ice company, who figures about 2,200 tons of ice is used in Janesville in the residential sections during the year. The business district consumers take nearly as much. The reduction from 50 to 35 cents a hundred therefore means a great saving.

Only about one-twentieth of the housewives take ice all year round and a large percentage only three months in the year, as the busiest season is usually June, July and August or from the middle of June to the middle of September depending upon the weather.

Mr. Atwood remarked that ice and milk peddling are businesses where the horse will never be replaced by the automobile.

"On these peddling jobs the horse is the best worker and can play rings around the auto, doing twice as much work," he says. "An auto won't start 2 p. m. in winter and having no brain can't become acquainted with the routes like our horses do after they have been on about a year. They climb some of the steepest hills of the city without a driver at the reins and know when to stop and when to start."

Mr. Atwood remarked that ice and milk peddling are businesses where the horse will never be replaced by the automobile.

"On these peddling jobs the horse is the best worker and can play rings around the auto, doing twice as much work," he says. "An auto won't start 2 p. m. in winter and having no brain can't become acquainted with the routes like our horses do after they have been on about a year. They climb some of the steepest hills of the city without a driver at the reins and know when to stop and when to start."

Girl's Mind—She's 17— Brings Wealth and Fame

"Seeress" of Atchison, Kansas, Holds a Superstitious World in Her Fingers and Groveling at Her Feet

The date is April 23, 1921. A man ran up the long flight of terraced steps that led to a little frame house at 500 South Fifth street, Atchison, Kas.

"Is Eugene Dennis here?" he asked at the door.

"Eugene is downtown," was the answer. "She'll be here in a few minutes."

The few minutes passed and Eugene appeared, a pretty girl in a checked dress, with a pile of school books under her arm.

"I ran as fast as I could," she panted. "I'm awfully glad to meet you. Let's get a rocking chair for him, Mama, so he'll be comfortable."

The date is March 17, 1922. The same man ran up a long flight of terraced steps that led to a little frame house at 500 South Fifth street, Atchison, Kas.

"Is Eugene Dennis here?" he asked at the door.

"Eugene is downtown," was the answer. "She'll be here in a few minutes."

The few minutes passed and Eugene appeared, a radiant young person in a Hudson seal coat over a dress that cost $200 if it cost a cent, a smart little hat on her head, a cell dimming, but not hiding, the sparkle in her eyes and the color in her cheeks.

"How do you do?" she said composedly. "It's nice to see you again. Won't you come in and sit down?"

The man rubbed a hand across a puzzled forehead in amazement.

"Thank you," he managed to say, as he followed her into the house. Then, to himself, as he waited for her to take off her wraps:

"Great day! How times have changed!"

Five thousand dollars in nine months. Pretty fair earnings for a girl 17 years old, aren't they? Particularly when you consider the girl works only when she feels like it and so to speak, when the spirit moves her.

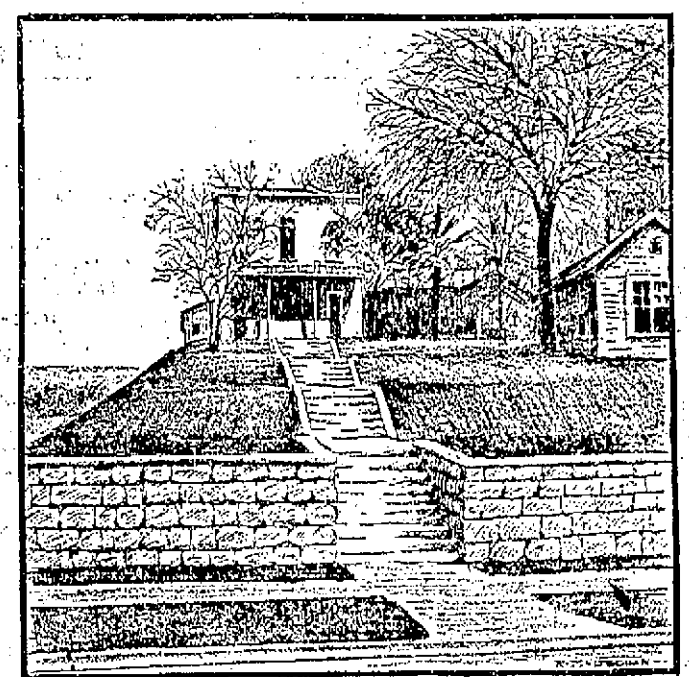

Eugene Dennis received her first introduction to the world at large in the Kansas City Star, May 8, 1921. Her story was told, her "mind-reading" ability and powers of looking into the future described, and before long she had secured several thousand letters had poured into the little house on South Fifth street in Atchison, and Eugene and her parents were giving "help."

Not that the half of it. Eugene couldn't begin to answer the correspondence that faced her. She and her mother were kept busy returning the jewelry and keepsakes that were sent her (from which to take the senders' fortunes), but letters still arrived by the bale and she could not answer them all or in part.

The Public Gives Her No Rest.

In the meanwhile, the general public, deciding that it would find a way to make her talk started a new campaign—this time using as weapons registered letters, telegrams, long distance telephone calls and personal interviews. Newspapers and magazines all over the country and abroad started exploiting her and messages even came from abroad.

People poured into Atchison by the dozens, and Mrs. Dennis had to put chairs in her front yard to take care tailed as part settlement of a damage suit against a railroad an unusual pass on the road for himself and his wife. It was highly valued, for the Dennis' traveled a great deal, but one day it would not be found.

"It had to be lost," Murray told Eugene. "Can you help me find it?"

"Look up a deed you put in a safety deposit box last week," the girl answered. "I think you accidentally forgot the pass in it."

Murray looked up the deed and found the pass.

Mrs. Charles Nestler, who moved to Atchison only a half year ago from another state, sought a brother-in-law whom she had been separated since childhood.

"He's in a cold country," Eugene said. "It must be Canada. He's crippled from a bad accident, but he's going to be rich through an invention or something he has made."

But she was unable to tell who murdered Horace Dow, formerly of Janesville, though she was tried on the case.

The girl's statement that Mrs. Nestler's brother was crippled gave the woman the idea that he might have been wounded in the world war, so she made a search of the Canadian army hospitals for him. She found him in one, recovering from the amputation of a leg in which he had been wounded. Sure enough, he also was growing rich from the royalties on what he had considered a comparatively worthless invention.

The Test in Omaha.

Eugene traveled much last summer. Her earnings probably would have been three or four times what they are had she not done so. She returned to Atchison and found that her fame had spread by word of newspaper and by word of mouth. It was like a snowball rolling down hill—the letters and inquiries and demands on her time kept increasing and increasing and she could do nothing about it.

The last part of January this year, January 26, to be exact, she went to Omaha as the guest of Prof. and Mrs. David Abbott. Professor Abbott had devoted a lifetime to the study of magic in all its forms—how to expose seemingly impossible tricks, etc.—and the American Society for Psychological Research of New York commissioned him to look into the girl's work, see what was behind it and expose any fraud in it. It was a hard task.

To Expose Trickery.

Eugene went into the Abbott home as the Abbotts' guest, and immediately repeated to Professor Abbott a story that he and a dead friend knew and that she had no way of knowing—a story, incidentally, that the friend had said he would try to get back to Professor Abbott from the Great Beyond, if there was such a thing as immortality.

"I don't say a spirit gave it to me," the girl said in answer to Professor Abbott's excited questions. "That's the story you two had agreed on, however, isn't it?"

It was, the professor said.

The Omaha newspapers gave conspicuous space to Eugene on her arrival in town, and the Abbott home was filled with letters and callers. The postman brought in 519 registered letters in one mail. Practically all contained requests for interviews.

Offered Stage Job.

The manager of the Biello theater, a motion picture house in Omaha, offered Eugene a contract of $800 a week as long as she would appear there if she would submit to two small "questions and answers" sessions before the audience each night.

"You'd be killing two birds with one stone," Professor Abbott pointed out. "Why don't you accept the offer and I can complete my investigation in the daytime?"

The result was that Eugene arrived in Atchison on the Missouri Pacific from Omaha February 25 with more than $600 worth of clothes in her suitcase that she had bought in Omaha and with a certified check for $2,000 which she straightway deposited in the bank.

"What are you doing with your money, Eugene?" she was asked recently.

"I've got more than half of that $2,000 to my credit in the bank right now."

"What have you done with the rest of the money?" she asked.

"Bought clothes," she acknowledged with a grimace, and proceeded to bring forth gowns, hats and coats that certainly testified to the truth of her words. Each of the dresses bore the name of one of Kansas City's most exclusive designers.

She Can't Explain Herself.

"How do you do this, Eugene?" was the next question. "There's no darkened room and you don't go into any trance or anything. Now tell me, just how do you do it?"

"I don't know," she answered honestly. "But I do it. Let me read your character. I'll show you."

And she proceeded to read her questioner's character, tell of his friends and relatives whom she never had seen in her life, tell of the most intricate detail his ambitions which were different than they were a year ago, and which she would have had no way of knowing. There is a room in the Dennis home that is the marvel of anyone who steps in it. It contains nothing but the letters that have come to Eugene—letters that she has not had time to answer, and the postman puts their number at 300,000.

Three hundred thousand letters! You should see that room! Against one wall stands a chifferoin with five wide, deep drawers. Each contains letters to the brim. On the floor are seven large receptacles—packing boxes, coal pails, etc. They average two feet in length, two feet in width and a foot in depth, and offer additional evidence of the same story—letters, letters, letters.

"What are you going to do with them all?" Eugene was asked.

"What can I do with them?" she answered. "One person, working years, could not clear them up and they're still pouring in, day by day. We don't seem to see that none contain valuable letters the owners might lose, and I have kept them in the order they come in and answer them as I can. That's all I can do that I can see."

Telegrams? They come in bunches: San Francisco, Cal. Kindly let me know where I may find my lost amethyst ring. R. H. B. Kirkland, Ill. Have lost two little children, supposedly drowned, near my home. Can you come and locate them? Please wire answer quick, my expense. A. E. K. San Francisco, Cal. Have lost my brother. He has my baby. Telegraph collect how I can find him. M. O.

New York, N. Y.: I have made a move. Will be successful in my case and will I come out O. K. Shall I remain where I am? Wire me at my expense. Mrs. L. B. D.

Los Angeles, Cal.: Wire at my expense and remuneration later. Did mother die without will or where it is? Is baby provided for? Where is my husband? How can I locate him? Kindly advise me best way to protect my interests. Mrs. A. S.

Bigin, Ill.: Can offer you valuable tour of America at salary of $100 per week if you can do what newspapers claim. Will furnish high school teacher and pay transportation for mother. Wire answer at once. C. R. L.

That last telegram—ah, there's the one that appealed to Eugene instantly—as it would to any girl her age. She likes work on the stage and she can "get away with it," too, as her success in Omaha showed. She does not plan to take it up at once, however, if ever, as the first important thing she is going to do is go to New York for examination by Dr. Hereward Carrington and other noted psychologists at the American Psychological Institute and laboratory there.

They have queer machines they are going to try out on Eugene—machines with wires and screens and wheels and mirrors and X-ray apparatus. Eugene doesn't quite know what it is all about, but she is not afraid of the coming test. She is confident that she will be able to tell people what they desire to know after the experiments are as before.

In addition to the money she has made, Eugene has presents that have come from everywhere, from France to the Hawaiian Islands, and on east to Japan and China, for work she has done. These include strings of beads, many of them of great value, jewelry of all kinds, silk handkerchiefs—her mother estimates the number at more than five hundred—wearing apparel, keepakes, even boxes of grape fruit and oranges from Florida.

WOMAN TOO WEAK TO WALK

Now Works Nine Hours a Day. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Restored Her Strength

Union Village, Vt.—"I was weak and nervous and all run down. I could not walk across the floor without resting, and I had been that way for weeks. I saw your advertisement in the paper and after taking one bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I felt the good it was doing me and I took seven more in all. Before I finished I was able to work nine hours a day in a steam laundry. I cannot say much in favor of your medicine. I trust all sick and suffering women will take it. It has been two years since I took it and I am strong and well." — Mrs. L. A. GUIMAN, Union Village, Vermont.

This is only one of such letters we are continually publishing showing what Lydia E. Pinkham has done for women. Mrs. Guiman's letter should interest you.

Many women get into a weak, nervous, run down condition because of ailments they often have. Such women should take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at the first sign of trouble.

The Stomach

If your stomach is out of order consult a Chiropractor. He will tell WHY your stomach is not as it should be. He will locate the point where the pinched nerve is and ADJUST the vertebrae that produced the pressure on the nerve. As soon as this is adjusted the nerve will build up and be able to carry life to the stomach. As soon as the nerve begins to perform its normal function the stomach becomes stronger, and will, in a short time, become normal.

besides being the spice of life, has several other useful qualities.

For instance, a variety of faces on the cement blocks you build with eliminates that "patterned" appearance that a wall assumes when it is built of blocks with the same faces.

We have blocks in a variety of faces—make them ourselves, so we are sure they are right!

Old Nest." It has much more humor than either of these productions. Tom Moore is at his best in this picture, portraying the good-natured, happy-go-lucky son of Erin, and will please not only his large and faithful following, but all those who like good comedy and a story that is human and truthful in every incident. He portrays the "rough ditch-digger," the well-groomed horseman and the successful contractor.

Helene Chadwick, co-star of "Dangerous Curve Ahead," and one of the leading characters in "The Old Nest," plays opposite Mr. Moore.

"Despite the public's susceptibility to the sensational and spectacular, it is our belief that no other form of entertainment quite so fully satisfies its needs as does the wholly enjoyable kind. The costume play has its vogue.

as does the sensational melodrama, the sentimental "sob" play and other national pieces designed to comply with the fad of the moment, but the kind of a play that is never without its season is the play that tells faithfully a human story of life as we see it through the eye of reality. So speak those connected with the making of "A Man's Home" to be at the Beverly theater Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday.

The story is wound around a few characters, all bearing some relation to the other. The man and his wife separate because of her frivolity. They are brought together by the actions of two adventurers and swindlers, who work against their daughter and her fiancé. Matt Moore plays the part of the fiancé, Fairb Diney of the daughter, Harry T. Morey, the father, Kathleen Williams, the mother, and Roland Bottomley and Grace Valentine, the "villains" and the "villainesses."

Washington—Senate adjourned until Monday and several members left for their homes announcing they would take short vacations.

New McColl Pattern 2652

Learn the A. B. C's of Dress Making

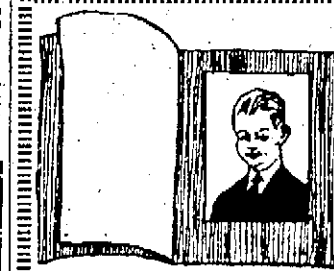

Successful dressmaking used to be considered a "knack." But that was before the "Printed" Pattern was invented.

Now any woman can cut out her own dress over a "Printed" Pattern with utmost confidence that it will turn out to have the right effect. This improvement in sewing is all in the simplicity and accuracy that comes through the "printing" on McColl pattern pieces.

THERE IS HOPE

for those who have suffered from so-called incurable disease and ailments and those who are not up to the mark in health and efficiency. That hope lies in Chiropractic.

Chiropractic (KI-RO-PRAK-TIC) is based upon the knowledge of the brain, spinal column, spinal cord and the nerves. Pressure on the nerve at the opening where it leaves the spinal column will cause disease in that organ or tissue at which the nerve ends. If the pressure is on the nerves that lead to the eyes, eye trouble often results. The Chiropractor adjusts with his hands only, the displaced vertebrae, which relieves the interference with the nerve force and enables Nature to restore normal conditions, or health in the affected organs.

The beneficial results, which generally follow the use of Chiropractic adjustments, even in cases that are long standing and obstinate, demonstrate the merits of

WATERTOWN YOUNG LADY RESTORED TO HEALTH

"I am so happy to be in good health again that I can't resist the temptation to tell of my wonderful recovery from a sickness which had fastened itself upon me and from which all hopes of recovery had vanished.

About the 28th of September, 1920, I was taken sick and was confined to my bed, running a high temperature, becoming very weak and losing a great deal in weight. Also loss of appetite. I was in bed about a month when it was decided to take me to the hospital, which was done and after being there for a few days it was decided that an operation was the only thing that would save my life. An operation was attempted, but upon making the incision, it was discovered that I had tuberculosis of the bowels and that an operation was impossible. After remaining in the hospital for about three weeks longer, I was taken home which was the day before Thanksgiving. My temperature was still very high and my condition was getting worse, also the openings in my abdomen refused to heal and were discharging pus. When taken sick I weighed 137 lbs., and by the time I left the hospital I weighed only 80 lbs. By this time all hopes of recovery had fled and I was very much discouraged. As a last resort it was decided that I try Chiropractic. We had heard of many wonderful results after all other methods had failed so we called in Dr. A. W. Breithaupt, local chiropractor, who stated after a careful examination of my spine that all my sickness was the result of a bad spine, that the little bones of the spine were pressing on the nerves leading to the bowels, making it impossible for the forces of nature to get through to the bowels, and as a result the poisons of the body had lodged in this weakened spot which caused the tuberculosis. He also explained that the nerves leading to the kidneys were under pressure which caused the kidneys to work too slowly, thereby not throwing off the poisons. Dr. Breithaupt said, he was not sure he could help me as my case had gone quite far but he would try an adjustment. After taking a number of adjustments my fever began to go down and I was able to sleep and eat better. When I had taken about two months' every day, a marked improvement was noticed, after which I took adjustments every other day. In all I took about eight months and haven't taken any for more than three months and am glad to say that I am in very good health. I am back to my normal weight, have a good appetite, sleep well, abdomen all healed, haven't a pain anywhere and am working every day. I feel as if I owe my life to the science of Chiropractic and would advise every sick person to try Chiropractic first and stick to it till they are well!"

The above testimonial was given to A. W. Breithaupt, D. C., of Watertown, Wisconsin. Those who read the series of articles in Leslie's Weekly by Severance Johnson will like to see Dr. Palmer's reply, "The Right of the Sick to Get Well," copies of which can be received for the asking.

Illuminated Chart of the Human System

There may be seen at this time in The Gazette window an illuminated chart of the human system showing the relationship of the various spinal segments or vertebrae to the organs of the body. This chart is well worth seeing and is very complete and contains thereon a great deal of information of interest.

OFFICE HOURS—10 to 12 A. M. and 2 to 5 P. M. Evenings.

Domestic tragedies which followed society's "hi-lo" romances of the past do not worry sixteen-year-old Mathilde McCormick, daughter of the harvester king and granddaughter of John D.

They point to the domestic tangles which followed the marriage of Julia French to chauffeur Jack Geraghty, to that of Juliette Breitung, who wedded her father's gardener, and the unhappy wedded life of Alice Drexel Biddle and Capt. Bill Barrett. But Mathilde just snaps her fingers and says "pooh-pooh. I know my mind," says Mathilde, and ever John D.'s millions haven't found a way to stop her.

Rockefeller, who is determined to wed Max Oser, a Swiss grocer, thrice his age, for mother, Mrs. Edith Rockefeller, and sister, Muriel, oppose the marriage.

T. C. Gale, government wire operator, broadcasting messages.

The thousands of radio fans who nightly listen in to the weather reports, crop reports, the messages from Secretary Mellon and other important government statements, will be interested in "meeting" T. C. Gale, the man whose voice reaches them over the radio phone each evening. Gale has an office in the postoffice building in Washington from which he broadcasts reports.

Russell Sjöholm.

Russell Sjöholm is the fourteen-year-old high school boy of Chicago who solves intricate mathematical problems without the use of a pencil or paper. In an exhibition recently he multiplied three-figure numbers in a flash and divided thousands into millions in a jiffy without a single error.

Mary McCormick.

From cow camp to grand opera! This epitomizes the career of Mary McCormick, the Arkansas girl, who has just scored success in the Chicago Grand Opera company. She had drifted west to the ranches of New Mexico, Arizona and Colorado, where she had made good as a cowgirl, when the ambition for a musical career obsessed her.

Miss Charlotte Boyles.

"It was only a prank, nothing serious," says David Boyles of Newcastle, Pa., discussing the six months' jaunt about the world that his daughter, Charlotte, has just completed. Miss Boyles returned home recently. She disappeared from home July 4, 1921, and eluded detectives for months. She finally wired her father for funds from London and returned home.

Miss Marjory Turner and Rev. Leon Ellsworth.

Dan Capid invaded the pulpit and Sunday school of an East Berlin, Conn., church, and when he left the Rev. Leon Ellsworth and nineteen-year-old Marjory Turner went with him, according to reports. The couple eloped, according to dispatches.

Sen. G. Wharton Pepper.

Pennsylvania, with its sturdy Dutch population, seems to run to husky statesmen. John Pennrose was a giant. Sen. Crow is over six feet. And George Wharton Pepper is as husky as they make them. Sen. Knox was the exception which proves the rule. In addition to being a senator and a swimmer, Pepper is a catcher. Last summer he went through nine innings behind the bat.

Hans Breitenstrater.

Hans Breitenstrater, German heavyweight champion, is ready to meet Jack Dempsey. German boxing critics are touting Hans as being a worthy challenger. Dempsey's critics will remark that here's a chance, at least, for Dempsey to tackle the Germans. This photo of Breitenstrater has just reached the U. S.

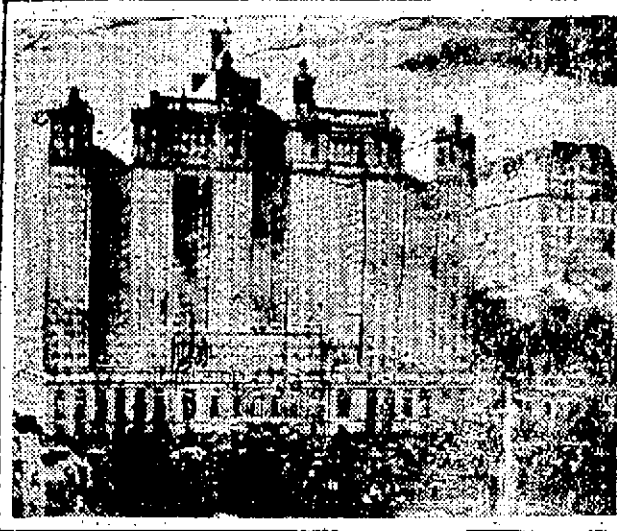

Madalynne Obenchain and the three men who have entered and passed out of her life to date. At lower right is J. Beldon Kennedy. Above, at left, Arthur C. Burch. At right, Ralph Obenchain.

Will a fourth man some day enter into the life of Madalynne Obenchain and bring her the happiness and contentment she has failed to find so far? Followers of the recent trial of Madalynne on a charge of murdering one of three men she has loved to date, are wondering. Arthur C. Burch, another of the trio, is charged with the same murder, and Ralph Obenchain—her old college love and divorced husband, has stood by her in her troubles despite the fact that she spurned him once and has said she will not go back to him.

Photograph of plans for "Stevens" hotel.

Plans for the world's largest hotel have been announced by the Hotel La Salle Company in Chicago. It is to be erected on Michigan avenue. It will contain 3,000 rooms and will cost between $12,000,000 and $15,000,000. The Pennsylvania hotel in New York now is the largest hotel in the world. It contains approximately 2,200 rooms.

Glimpse of mountains of coal stored in yards near Chicago.

Chicago officials hope to avert a coal famine for a time at least if the coal crisis does cause cessation of deliveries. Veritable ranges of mountains of coal have been stored in railroad yards in the metropolis. This photo shows two of the huge piles of coal, with empty cars standing on the tracks in the distance. But the huge supply on hand will rapidly dwindle if a strike occurs.

This afternoon costume of black satin combined with beige crepe is gorgeously embroidered after the fashion of peasant aprons. The colors are high and the designs intricate. The overblouse slips over the head and has no waistline. It is worn over a narrow black foundation. Note the wide sleeves.

This sports dress of henna canton crepe borrows its design from the Russian blouse and finds cross stitch embroidery in colors all sufficient for its decoration. The cross stitch design is one of the season's most used trimmings.

A long range motion picture camera is now being used by the U. S. navy to photograph the landing of shells on or near targets during maneuvers. The camera proved of great value to navy authorities during the bombing of the German war vessels in Chesapeake Bay. It obtained clear pictures of the bombing that could not have been taken by the ordinary movie camera without endangering the life of the operator. Its range is from 200 to 300 yards. The operator sights through a telescope beside the cannon-shaped camera.

This stylish coat of shawlsheen is made in navy, tan, reindeer, sorrento blue and mohawk red. The front may be worn tuxedo style or buttoned over, as it is in the photograph.

N. W. HAS 5-MONTHS COAL SUPPLY HERE

Can Handle 45 Engines Daily for 144 Days—St. Paul Protected.

Sufficient coal is on hand at South Janesville yards of the Chicago & Northwestern railway to keep the lines running out of the city going for approximately 144 days, or almost five months. At the roundhouse of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul, there is enough for 30 days.

The C. & N. W. coals 45 locomotives here daily, the average per engine being 8 tons, or 360 tons a day. The C. M. & St. P. loads 18 to 20 engines each day, using about 200 tons.

At the South Janesville yards of the Northwestern, there are 52,000 tons of coal on hand. Thirty-one more cars arrived here Friday, or about 1,400 tons. More is expected from the great supply in cars side-tracked at Belvidere.

The St. Paul has 35 carloads of coal on hand in Janesville. This is in the neighborhood of 210 tons. Thousands of tons have been stored at McFarland, Wis., all coal that would ordinarily go into Madison for company consumption being side-tracked to that place. This will ease the demand at the local roundhouse.

LIBRARY TURNS OVER UNCLAIMED ARTICLES TO SALVATION ARMY

Have you ever thought of what becomes of the articles which make up the lost and found department of any local public building? The public library gives its lost and found articles to the Salvation Army. Gloves and mittens and other wearing apparel, mostly worn by children, make up the bulk of what is left at the library. Recently a large bundle of mittens was donated to the army.

DELAVER LAKE IS OLD INDIAN GROUND

Influx of Illinois Campers Start of Development as Summer Resort.

It is nearly a half-century since Delaver lake began its career as a summer resort. In its earlier days it was a favorite hunting and fishing place for roving bands of Pottawatomies, Chippewas and other Indian tribes. When the white man first came the old trails of the red men were easily followed and many mounds marked the places where their dead were buried and even yet the adjacent lands yield wonderful specimens of the handiwork of the primitive visitors. The lake has always been a favorite with the hunter and the trapper and the fisherman.

Illinois hunters and trappers, but curiously enough it was adventures from distant places who discovered its latent beauties and Illinois folk from Rockford, Peoria and Harvard were the first to establish permanent camps. It is true that Andrew and Pete Nelson lived upon its shores, but they were there for profit rather than pleasure and making afforded them a livelihood. Schmitt's and Lake Lawn hotels, the pioneers, were established, and they were soon followed by other hotels and resorts.

Dr. F. D. Von Sussmitch and J. H. Goodrich were the pioneer summer residents. They were the first to build substantial summer homes and establish the custom of moving to the lake in the spring and remaining until fall. Their example has been followed until today the shores of the lake are thick with homes and the summer contingent numbers thousands.

Sidevictor launched the coming of the first hotels and summer homes it was a passenger steamboat was a necessity. Lake Geneva already had two large steamers, the "Lucius Newberry" and the "Lady of the Lake." In those days inland boats were built sufficiently large to ply the Great Lakes and it took years for owners to learn that smaller craft served every purpose and afforded a profit instead of a loss.

A stock company was formed in Delaver and a side-whaler with double-decks and cabin was built and launched from the shores fronting the Lake Lawn hotel. The launching of the boat was made a holiday. Hundreds of people came early to witness the event but the boat stuck on the ways and it was evening before it finally slid into the water and was safely anchored. It was named after D. A. Olin, at that time "general manager" of the Western Union railroad. He lived in Racine and, previous to his exaltation and when he worked on the section, gloried in the good old Irish name of Dan O'Lin.

Starts Movement Mr. Olin was a man of influence and with many friends in Delaver, so the pride of Delaver was given his name. Charlie Walton was the first captain, George Newberry, the engineer and Floyd Luter the pilot. But the career of the "D. A. Olin" was short-lived. It never paid running expenses and in a few years it was beached, its machinery removed and the hull left to decay. Nevertheless it gave an impetus to a movement that has made Delaver lake one of the best known and most popular Wisconsin summer resorts.

FOR CITY MANAGER--

Vote Yes by making an X in the box after the word "Yes" on the referendum ticket Tuesday next

WHY?

Because City management is real business management in city affairs. Because everywhere it has been established City Management has saved money to the taxpayers.

Take Dubuque, Iowa. That's a neighbor. It had $550,000 of uncollected taxes in 1920. It was deeply in debt. It had no modern methods or improvements. It was taxed to death. It held an election and voted in City Management. Every selfish interest in the city opposed it. They made the same arguments we have read here. It was the same style, same incentive. "One Man" rule, and all that. But the working people, the home owners, the people who did not have favors for special privilege to ask, voted in City Management by a big majority.

Friday the mayor of Dubuque said the whole city was for City Management now, including all who had opposed it. The council elected in 1920, was reelected last Tuesday. The old taxes have been collected and the taxes of the people cut down. $240,000 of the old debt has been paid. Hundreds of dollars have been saved in small items. New equipment has been bought. Fire losses have been cut from an average of $1560 to $85 for each fire. The insurance rate has been cut down and a saving of $50,000 made in premiums. There are lot more that could be told would space permit.

Do you suppose Dubuque would go back to aldermanic government?

NO NEVER. That is the way of City Management. No city goes back after trying it once.

Do you want other examples? Read the results of City Management in 300 cities. Everyone is satisfied.

When one observes that the City of Janesville has a population of about 18,000, with a true value of assessed property of nearly $28,000,000, with intangible property including public buildings owned by the city would make the grand total of $35,000,000

When you consider the various departments of the municipal corporation of the city, the enormous proportions to which they have grown, then one realizes the urgent need of the municipal corporation being operated as any other great corporation is operated.

Anyone that would even suggest that the organization of a private business, should not be operated by a board of directors and the strong guiding hand of a president, superintendent or manager, (it matters not so much what the title may be) would be accused of being insane.

Bear in mind there is no difference between public business and private business as to principles of successful management.

It is to be expected that some will oppose the practical business plan from selfish motives. They poison hope, nourish despair, the advancement of any efficient method and shackle them with fright.

Under the manager plan the taxpayers would get a dollar's worth of value for every dollar of tax collected. With the city bonded for all the law will allow and with no money to expend in needed public improvements should cause every citizen to give the subject much thought and careful consideration.

We can safely say that we can please you, no matter what your idea.

J18249, illustrated, is of tan plaid polo, yoke lined with Peau De Cygne, $22.50.

INTEREST HIGH IN BIRD-HOUSE ARRAY

Many See Unique Exposition In Gazette Contest—Judging Begins.

With the last bird-houses having come in Friday morning, the Bird-House exhibit conducted by the Gazette at the Sheldon Hardware store on South Main street, is attracting a great deal of attention. The houses, more than 40 in all, have been tagged and placed in the window and on tables behind the window, where all can be seen to advantage. The school-children are especially interested, gathering in groups in the store and on the sidewalk, and showing what each different one made, while the grown-ups are also attracted by the bright colored display.

J. L. Wilcox, J. H. McVie and J. M. Carver are now judging the houses Friday afternoon. Not only the beauty of the house, but its practicability, will be considered and a beautiful house, with holes too small on which birds could alight, inside the house, will be out of the race.

A great deal of work is represented in the houses seen there, but the winner of the grand sweepstakes prize of $100 will be among the prize winners. A great many other prizes are offered. For city exhibitors there will be three prizes of $5, $3 and $2. There will be the same for the rural exhibitors, but ten special prizes of $1 each will be awarded. There are two prizes for girls, and two for boys entered by girls. These prizes are $2.50 and $1.50. The exhibit will continue through Saturday night, at which time the awards will have been made. Boys and girls are to call at the store for their houses some time Monday. Many are for sale, and the price has been marked on the tag.

STERLING MAN TO MANAGE "5 AND 10"

J. W. Watson, manager of the F. W. Woolworth company store at Sterling, Ill., the past two years will succeed W. N. Feits as manager of the Janesville store. Announcement of Mr. Watson's appointment was made Friday by E. C. Burman, of Chicago, district superintendent for the Woolworth stores who has been here the past week. Mr. Watson has been with the Woolworth company for three years. It is expected he will arrive about Wednesday and move his family here. Mr. Feits resigned recently to become connected with J. M. Bestwick and Sons.

DELANVAN BAND IS EXAMPLE FOR CITY

The appearance here Friday afternoon and night at the high school of the Delavan band, shows what can be done with music in the schools. The band, made up of boys of all ages in the public schools of that small city, is it hoped to organize some similar band here next year, and to play at the school. At the request of Miss Hanson, music director, secured the band to play here in the hopes of arousing some enthusiasm on the subject. Adults are invited to attend the concert at 8 p. m. Friday.

RADIO EDUCATION, PLAN OF VARSITY

Lectures to Public by Wireless Telephone Are Proposed.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Madison—Education of middle-western people by wireless telephone is to be undertaken by the University of Wisconsin through its extension department, officials announced Friday.
Each day 10 minute talks on subjects of general interest will be delivered by university professors to persons within the radius of the University wireless telephone sending station.
These lectures are to be supplemented by Tuesday evening wireless classes, which will be televised by special sections. A special course in musical appreciation is to be given by Prof. E. S. Gordon, of the extension department, on Friday nights.
President E. A. Birge of the University has named a committee representing all branches of university work to plan programs of instruction and entertainment.
"There is no reason why radio-phones receiving should not be used just as motion picture machines are used in the schools for instruction," Prof. W. H. Lighty, chairman of the committee declared. "We plan to extend our instruction work rapidly."

Police Arrest

Lawrence; Ends Lengthy Search

Believed to be wanted in at least two cities on various charges, Thomas Lawrence, former restaurant owner here, was arrested by police here Thursday night ending a search of more than six months. Lawrence is said to be wanted at Baraboo for cashing a worthless check last June and at Flint, Mich., for an $80 embezzlement in August. He was arrested on a warrant from La Porte Ind., charging him with grand larceny but inquiry there by Chief Newman developed that he is not wanted as he has made settlement. Telegrams have been sent to police in Baraboo and Flint. The La Porte warrant, issued June 28, 1921, has been at the police station here ever since but Thursday was the first day he was seen here.
Lawrence is being held at the county jail under bail of $1,000 with his hearing set for Apr. 12.

BAR SICK PUPILS, DR. GUDUX WARNS

Speaking at the Rock County Teachers' Training school Thursday on "Communicable Diseases," Dr. V. A. Gudux, epidemiologist of the state board of health, pointed out the important part which the rural teachers play in keeping down the number of deaths from disease.
He urged all teachers to become familiar with the state laws on sanitation and especially the one which says children must be sent home when they have a severe cough, severe cold, or obviously ill.
"Hundreds of deaths have occurred because children were not excluded from school during the first stages of the disease," Dr. Gudux said. "The health of the children is the foundation on which to build our education and our civic and social progress."

BUCKETING CHARGED AGAINST EXCHANGE

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
New York—Two indictments against the American Cotton Exchange and six of its officers and directors, were filed Friday with Judge Grainger in federal court, alleging bucketing.

OUTSIDE REPAIRS FOUND EXPENSIVE

Washington—Contracts with outside locomotive construction companies during 1920, for the repair of engines, cost the New York Central and Pennsylvania railroads each approximately $3,000,000 more than the same work would have cost in their own shops, the Interstate Commerce commission, found Friday, after an investigation.

400 AT OPENING OF
Four hundred people received the sacrament at St. Mary's church Thursday morning in the beginning services of 40 hours' devotion. Rev. Father A. Zeller, Redemptorist father, preached a sermon on "The Triumph of the Eucharist," explaining the origin and meaning of the service. Solemn high mass was celebrated with a procession of school children carrying the blessed sacrament.

At the evening services at 7:45 Father Zeller will preach a sermon on "Preparation for the Sacrament." Confessions will be heard after devotions. High mass will be celebrated at 8:30 Saturday morning with Father Zeller preaching a sermon on "The Real Presence."

Confessions will be heard after mass from 2 to 6 in the afternoon and during the evening.

TAXIDERMIST, DAIRY

MAN, ARE FINED
Fines aggregating $150 were assessed by Judge H. L. Maxfield in municipal court here, Friday.
F. D. Burlingame, local taxidermist, was fined $50 and costs for possessing a wild duck out of season.
C. H. Kothlow, Edgerton, was fined $100 and costs for six months following a jury verdict of guilty, for under-reading a Babcock test.

He is expected to appeal the case as he did not pay his fine.

Chicago Review.

Chicago.—Wheat opened heavy on the Chicago board of trade yesterday mainly because of the decline at Liverpool. The May early dropped of about 2¢ after opening 5 1/2¢ @ 5 1/2¢ lower at $1.32 1/2-1.31 3/4. July started 5 1/2¢ @ 2¢ lower at $1.17 1/2-1.16 3/4 and September was off 2¢ at $1.11 but lost another 1/2¢ in the first hour.

There was scattered liquidation of commission houses on the way down. Local traders tried to check the movement at around $1.31 for May, but had to give up. Small amounts of Prices fluctuated in; narrow limits through the rest of the session. A rally in the last thirty minutes brought prices up to about the opening and a the close. May was $1.31½ @ 1.31½; July $1.16½ @ 1.17; and Sept. $1.10½.

Corn started unchanged to ¼¢ lower; with May 57½ @ 57½ c. July 60½ @

The powerful Buick valve-in-head motor has been an outstanding Buick feature for 20 years. Its un-failing dependability, stamina and certainty of performance have justly earned for it the unstinted admiration of the entire motor-ing public.

The Buick "Four" is equipped with the reliable Buick valve-in-head motor. This is merely another indication of the fact that the Buick "Four" maintains Buick standards of quality throughout every element of its construction. It is Buick through and through.

HINTS FOR THE MOTORIST

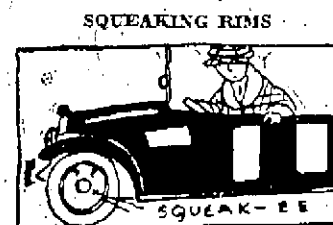

ALBERT L. CLOUGH

Corroded Battery Terminals

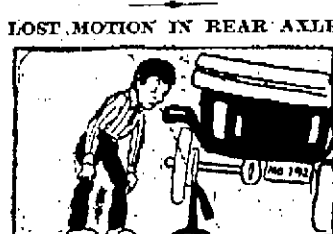

They Rapidly Increase In Resistance And Eventually Give Trouble

WHEN ONE OR BOTH of the storage battery terminals (and it is more commonly the positive one) is found covered with a heavy deposit of soft, bluish white material, it is a warning of future trouble, as this product of corrosive action forms between the battery post and its cable terminal and ultimately may increase the contact resistance so greatly that the heavy starting current will be prevented from flowing. Acid, creeping up the terminal post, from the battery, causes this corrosion, which is aggravated by looseness of the connection. Overfilling of the cells increases the likelihood of escaping acid, but failure of the battery post to be liquid tight in the cover always encourages creeping. Quite frequent application of vaseline to the post and its connection tends to prevent acid from reaching these parts and to protect the metal from its action. When heavy corrosion is found, the connection should be removed, it and the post thoroughly cleaned, freed from traces of acid by applying ammonia water, scraped bright, coated with vaseline and replaced. The connection being tightened as firmly as possible without injuring the parts. If corrosion is continuous, a new terminal will finally have to be obtained and soldered onto the cable end. These terminal clamps are usually coated with lead so as somewhat to protect the brass of which they are made from the acid.

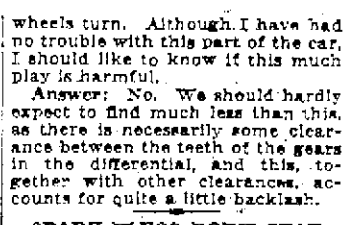

SQUEAKING RIMS
J. C. T. asks: How can I prevent the squeaking of the rims on my car? I tighten them frequently, but still they squeak.

Answer: If these rims have become sprung out of true, they may not have a full bearing, even when tightened and squeaking will be likely to occur. When replacing a rim, unless it is seated evenly all around, it is held rather insecurely and there is some "working" which results in squeaks. Correct seating is best secured by the exercise of judgment as to the order and extent to which the holding devices are set up. A coating of graphite, applied to all rim parts, through its lubricating effect, tends to prevent squeaking. If the wheels themselves have loosened up, they sometimes develop squeaks, which are mistaken for rim squeaks, and spring squeaks are sometimes mistakenly attributed to the rim.

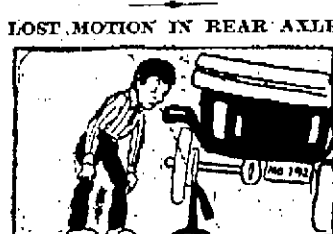

LOST MOTION IN REAR AXLE
J. McN. writes: I notice that with the rear wheels jacked up, the ring-gear moves with the universal, with a half an inch before the road

Questions of general interest to the motorist will be answered by Mr. Clough in this column, space permitting. If an immediate answer is desired, enclose self-addressed, stamped envelope.

SPARK-PLUGS UNDER SEAT PROPERLY
J. McN. asks: Is there any harm in using two gaskets under a spark-plug instead of one? Some of the plugs on my engine do not seem to be tightened with one gasket under them because the plugs come into contact with the cylinder casting before they screw in far enough to seat on the gasket. In one cylinder I have to use three gaskets. Will there be any loss of compression, through leakage, by using so many gaskets?

Answer: Either the spark-plug recesses of your engine were not milled out to full size or you are using a plug that is not adapted to your engine. Possibly your plugs are those which have the large hexagon shell and that the smaller standard would not interfere with the walls of the recess. We doubt if you will have any trouble from leakage in using two or even three gaskets and hardly think that you will notice any difference in engine operation on this account, but it would be much better to use plugs that will seat freely. Very likely, by rounding off the lower corners of the shells of your present plugs, with a file, they will clear the cylinder metal.

J. McN. writes: I notice that with the rear wheels jacked up, the ring-gear moves with the universal, with a half an inch before the road

Questions of general interest to the motorist will be answered by Mr. Clough in this column, space permitting. If an immediate answer is desired, enclose self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Can You Grease Your Car in Twenty Minutes?

With an ALEMITE HIGH PRESSURE LUBRICATING SYSTEM it can be done. It not only means a saving of time but also means much more efficient lubrication and elimination of the dirt and mud encountered with the old method of greasing a chassis.

The ALEMITE compressor forces the grease into the bearing under a 500-pound pressure.

Over 250 of the leading makes of cars, trucks and tractors have adopted ALEMITE as standard equipment.

Let us quote you the price of an ALEMITE system for your car. If your car is already equipped with ALEMITE don't forget that we can supply you with any replacement parts needed, also with ALEMITE grease in the handy compressor-filler.
